Water Management to delay on proposals

By CHIP NEWTON
SUN Staff

In a veritable frenzy of activity, the South Florida Water Management District Thursday voted to delay for another two weeks a decision on the various proposals regarding the land-swap controversy widely known as the Closter Farms issue.

The district's board listened to recommendations from district staff members regarding the proposed trade then asked for input from representatives of Closter Farms Inc. and the S. N. Knight family, both of whom have offered to swap other acreage for the Closter Farms site.

The land at issue is a parcel of 2720 acres south of and contiguous to the City of Pahokee and is said to be some of the best farmland in the Everglades Agricultural Area.

Hector Cardena, Assistant Vice President of Atlantic Sugar, told the board he feared the loss of jobs at Atlantic if the board elected the S. N. Knight proposal.

Mr. Cardena said he had been elected to represent employees of the sugar mill. The employee group fears loss of the acreage immediately surrounding the mill - to be traded away in the Knight proposal - would lead to the closing of Atlantic.

Citing statistics, he told the board, "The economic impact of Atlantic Sugar closing would be

Recreation program teaches more than sports

"Louis! Go straight across the middle about ten yards. The ball should be there when you turn your head."

"Mike! When Louis crosses the center, fire that pass! Get your timing right!"

"Dave! What's the capitol of Kansas? Quick!"

"Okay, Mike, let's work on that behind-the-line handoff."

"Billie! What's fourteen times four?"

What?

It's football, baseball, basketball, soccer, track, and... homework.

Homework? On the field?

Yup. It's Coach John's plan for improving the lives of Glades area youths through his South Bay Youth Program.

Headquartered in greater metropolitan South Bay, the program is the brainchild of John Claitt, Coach John, a South Bay native who had a vision in which children grow up in South Bay and don't automatically leave town.

Mr. Claitt, with some help, formed the SBYF. He hopes it will be a year-round recreational program focusing on young males (ages five to eighteen) in their after-school hours and on weekends.

There are presently about 125 youngsters in the program. They meet each afternoon at Cox and Tanner Parks and practice football, and yes, homework.

"We check their grades every Wednesday," says Coach John. "They've got to maintain about a two-point-five or so grade average or they can't practice or play."

The Coach also drops in at Rosendal Elementary and area businesses to "spot-check" attitudes. "If a kid smarts off in a store here, I'm going to hear about it, and he's not going to play for a while," says Coach John.

Mr. Claitt says area parents are behind the program "one hundred percent."

"We're trying to change attitudes here; we want people in the community to support us, and we're trying to teach the kids to support the community."

"You can already see a difference. Kids don't just throw trash on the ground anymore; they go looking for a trash can. It's taking a hold on them," he said.

The group needs money; they have car-washes, bake sales, and a fish-fry, which are bringing in money weekly, but more is needed.

Much of the equipment - helmets, uniforms, etc. - has been donated to the group.

Old Pahokee High use decision delayed

By CHIP NEWTON
SUN Staff

The Recreation Facility Advisory Board asked for and received a special workshop session with Pahokee City Commissioners, but still came away empty handed.

The board is trying to persuade commissioners to move ahead with plans to renovate buildings at the old Pahokee High School site and use them as facilities for the city's recreational programs, but the site is owned by the school board and the city doesn't yet have permission to proceed.

Patricia Wallace, board chairman, presented the group's findings to the commission, but was asked for additional information by commissioners who are concerned about the city's financial condition.

Commissioners have instructed the recreation board to report how the proposed facilities would bring in revenue and what expenses could be expected.

Ms. Wallace provided some figures, but was unable to estimate utility expenses, a sore spot for commissioners. She asked for help from the city's Finance Department.

Commissioners agreed to have Pahokee's Finance Director meet with and help the group.

Schlechters named Farm Family of Year

By CHIP NEWTON
SUN Staff

The Western Palm Beach County Farm Bureau named its Farm Family of the Year Thursday night and in so doing put smiles on a lot of faces.

Before a crowd of more than 200, the family of the late Walter Schlechter took the stage and accepted flowers, a plaque, and a standing ovation.

Family matriarch Mary Schlechter, surrounded by sons, daughters and grandchildren, thanked the crowd for the honor. She came to Belle Glade about 1931, newly married to Walter, who had moved to Miami with his parents about 1920 when he was 12.

She met him while she was in nurses training at High point, North Carolina, and they eloped, says granddaughter Alicia Bible. They ran off to Martinsville, Virginia.

"I was nineteen when we got married, but I turned twenty-one real quick when we crossed the state line into Florida," says Mary. "It must have been alright, we were married fifty-seven years."

Walter died three years ago, according to grandson Ken Schlechter.

The couple farmed until their retirement about 1970, bought a boat, and moved to Singer Island, says Ken, now part of W.E. Schlechter & Sons.

Ken, his brothers Bill, Mike and Tom, along with father John, make up W.E. Schlechter & Sons, a grower of cane, salad leaf crops, sweet corn, and other agricultural products.

The family also owns the local John Deere dealership, which is operated by John and Mike says Ken.

Farm Family of the year...Seen here are members of the Schlechter family, selected as Western Palm Beach County Farm Family of the Year are, Mike and Missy Schlechter, Jeana Schlechter, Tom Schlechter, Bill Schlechter, Mary (center, with flowers), Henry and MaryBelle Ruffolo, Barbara and Ken Schlechter, and Alicia and Cary Bible. Mary came to the area about 1931 with her new husband Walter.

Rice package for Russia will not help local rice farmers

By BRENDA BUNTING
SUN Editor

A decision to include $24 million worth of rice in a recently announced food aid package for Russia will not prove directly beneficial to local rice grower and processor Klaus Sengelmann.

"Florida rice is not subsidized," said Mr. Sengelmann, "therefore it will not affect me."

Mr. Sengelmann said the subsidy would help though to hold rice prices up in the United States. Rice in the U.S. is subsidized at 18 cents a pound.

Half of the U.S. rice, or two and a-half million tons, is exported every year.

The funds provided by USDA will allow purchase of approximately 75,000 metric tons of U.S. rice.

Mr. Sengelmann said Florida growers planted 22,000 acres of rice last year, "and the acreage is growing every year."

Of those 22,000 acres, Sem Chi Rice, owned by Mr. Sengelmann, processed 20,000 acres.

According to the President of the Rice Millers' Association, David Graves, "Rice is a simple, easy to prepare food that will be of great help in meeting the nutritional needs of the Russian people for the coming winter."

In the just concluded U.S. government fiscal year (Oct. 1991-Sept. 1992) nearly 20,000 tons of U.S. rice was provided through USDA programs as emergency food aid for several republics of the former Soviet Union, including Russia. In addition, commercial sales of U.S. rice to the former Soviet Union over the past calendar year have totaled 55,000 metric tons.

Mr. Graves said the use of U.S. rice in food aid programs will help build a commercial market for U.S. rice in Russia and other republics of the former Soviet Union. "The programming of rice will greatly benefit U.S. rice farmers both in the short-term and the long-term, since the former Soviet Union represents one of the largest potential markets for U.S. rice in the world," said Mr. Graves.

What's this?...Two-year-old Alejandra Delgado found a toy in the hay at the Glades Day School Carnival Saturday. The carnival attracted a large crowd and organizers say there were lots of things for families to do during the day. See Gator Tales for more information.

The family-owned and operated business does sandblasting, painting, pressure cleaning, welding and fabrication. They're open Monday through Saturday from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m.

Recognition for a job well done...Jayne Meadows with Glades General Hospital accepts this plaque and congratulations from American Heart Association Chairman Lester Baird for the hospital having the most walkers at the Heart Walk Oct. 3. Belle Glade resident Doug Thompson also received recognition for raising the most money by an individual. He won a two night stay at the Ritz Carlton in Palm Beach.

The Belle Glade Chamber of Commerce is again this year sponsoring the "Just Say No to Drugs" Red Ribbon Campaign.

This year's theme is

"Neighbors Drug-free and Proud."

Studies show there has been a decline of drug use among young adults, yet 25% of our high school students are still frequent users of illegal drugs by the time they graduate. Each of us needs to aggressively work to prevent addiction and create an environment in which our youth may live in a healthy, drug-free society.

Youth Program needs funds

Coach John Claitt's South Bay Youth Program is in need of funds, according to program president Dorothy Davis. Donations are sought and welcomed.

The program was founded by John Claitt with a lofty goal: to keep kids off the streets and in school in the South Bay area. The program has expanded rapidly and now has youngsters from all over the Glades area.

It's expensive, and it's keeping kids off the streets.

Glades Haunted House is Oct. 30 & 31 at marina

The Belle Glade Kiwanis Club and the Palm Beach County Sheriff's Department Explorer Post 611 are again this year sponsoring the Glades Haunted House.

The haunted house will be offered on Friday, October 30 and Saturday October 31 from 6:30 p.m. to 9 p.m.

The group used to hold the event at the Belle Glade Armory, but this year it will be at the Belle Glade Marina in the Pavilion.

significant to Palm Beach County. In the company's fiscal year ending March 31, 1992, salaries and wages amounted to over seven million dollars. Taxes totaled approximately $1.9 million. Suppliers were paid over seventeen and a half million dollars.

"Additionally, the company had $1.7 million in capital expenditures, and paid approximately four million dollars to the British West Indies cane cutters. The greatest part of this money is being spent in this county," he said.

The water board also heard from members of the Pahokee East Beach Economic Development Authority. The EBEDA is a private, non-profit organization formed in July of this year to lobby Florida's governor and cabinet - the owners of the Closter Farms site - on behalf of Pahokee.

Mrs. Clark Wilkinson, former mayor of Pahokee and a member of EBEDA, told the water managers Pahokee had included 1000 acres of the Closter property in the city's Comprehensive Plan and still wished to proceed with that plan.

Pahokee's 'Comprehensive Plan calls for a 'model city' area to be built on the 1000-acre tract contiguous to the city's southern boundary."

Mrs. Wilkinson said she'd been told in 1991 the only drawback the city faced was the "long-term lease" on the state-owned Closter Farms site, and said "We were told we'd have to wait until the lease expired before we made any presentations."

"We didn't receive anything (noting the upcoming lease expiration)," she said. "In the first week of August, 1992, we heard about the bid proposals."

She said the group immediately filed a letter of objection and its bid proposal, and did so on the correct dates.

"We think we have done all the proper things, except, we didn't have twelve million dollars."

"We've been trying to get, as they say, in the loop and we're not able to get in there," said Jonathan, also representing EBEDA.

"We've been chastised for being tardy. But when you don't receive notice, and you're not allowed in the loop, it's difficult," she said.

"We plead with you to support our endeavor."

"I do not believe the state should assault the residents; You are the drivers of the SWIM plan, and you are responsible."

Board member Frank Williamson told the Pahokee group the board is in the middle of a process which is the "sale of a total parcel of land."

He suggested EBEDA attempt to work out their needs with the potential new owners of the land.

"I'm not sure there's any way we can interrupt the process that's been prescribed to us for the total parcel of land, no matter what the merits of your proposal are," he said.

"Citing too much 'apples vs oranges' confusion in the two primary land-swap bids, the board decided to wait until an October 30 meeting in Orlando to make a decision."

have donated about $1000, with more promised, and the city donated money to enhance the program, but more is needed.

Currently, volunteers drive some players to and from the practice field, and to "away" games.

They need a van or bus, and more equipment.

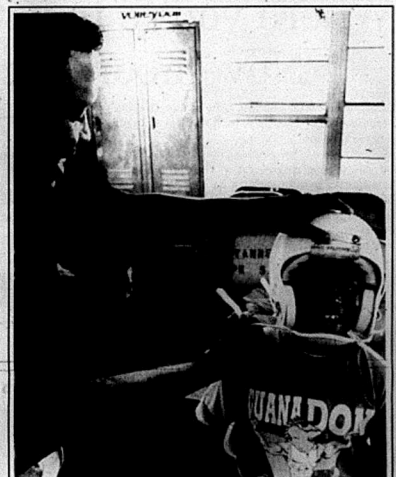

"We lost some dozen or so players because we couldn't suit them up," says Clyde Curry, another involved coach.

"These uniforms cost up to $250 each," says coach Curry. "But the ones for the smaller kids cost less."

There are about a dozen coaches, all volunteers, and some cheerleaders, too, says Mr. Curry.

"We're just trying to keep them off the street and in school," said both coaches. The program was originally intended for South Bay youth, but, says Mr. Curry, youngsters are coming from all around the Glades area.

"We didn't turn any kids away," says coach Curry.

This one ain't too big, is it Coach?...Ahhh the joys of finding a helmet that fits. Maurice Polio, 9, finally finds a little pleasure; a small helmet. Maurice is one of Coach John Claitt's South Bay Youth Program football players. That's Coach John there helping Maurice buckle up. Hey Maurice: Nice shirt! But who's gonna Don't??

Whiplash injuries can result from a sudden backward and forward whipping movement of the neck, caused by an auto collision, a fall, a powerful slap on the back, or even a violent sneeze. The ligaments and muscles controlling the spinal segments are stretched or sprained, allowing the vertebrae to slip into abnormal positions. Nerves are then "pinched" or irritated, giving rise to headaches, nausea, dizziness and other pain.

Caller missed church because of misinformation

In The Sun this week it says on the front page "Don't forget to turn your clock back one hour on Saturday night."

Well, I just want to let you know, when I got ready to go to church Sunday morning, church was over with because I turned my clock back.

I just want to say thank you, and have a nice week.

Editor's note: We must have had a couple dozen phone calls about that front page mistake. I spent all of last week thinking it was a week later in the month than it actually was. I goofed! I'm sorry that you missed church. I know God will forgive you and I hope you will forgive me for the mistake.

Where you're to vote in the November election

Since redistricting, some voters say they're confused about where to vote in the November 3 General Election.

Poll workers at the primary election said they had many people show up at the Belle Glade Civic Center to vote, only to be sent to another polling location.

Here's how to tell where you should go to cast your vote:

Look on your voter's registration card. It will tell you in the upper right hand corner what district you are in. It will also give you the polling location. Listed below are the polling precincts and their locations.

Precinct 36 - Canal Point Community Center, 525 U.S. Highway 441, Canal Point.

Precincts 37 & 97B - Belle Glade American Legion, Post 20, 101 S.E. Avenue D, Belle Glade.

Precinct 38 - Mount Calvary Baptist Church, 399 Canal Street, Belle Glade.

Precincts 51 & 55 - Pahokee Middle/Senior High School, 900 Larrimore Road, Pahokee

Precinct 54 - School of CHOICE, 541 Rardin Avenue, Pahokee.

Precincts 97, 114, 114A, 114B - Belle Glade Municipal Civic Center, 725 N.W. 4th Street, Belle Glade.

Precinct 97A - St. John's Episcopal Church, 225 N.W. Avenue G, Belle Glade.

Precinct 116 - South Shore Water Association, 4740 Corkscrew Blvd., Lake Harbor.

If you plan to be out of town on election day, call the Glades Office Building at 996-4800 and ask for an absentee ballot. It will be mailed to you.

Also, if you have changed your address since the last election Florida law requires that you vote in the precinct in which you live. You should fill in the new address on the back of your voter registration identification card and mail it back to the elections office, 301 North Olive Avenue, Room #105, West Palm Beach, Florida, 33401.

Letter to the editor

Dear Editor:

Greetings.

It has come to my attention that there has been an increase in the rates at the Pahokee Campground.

We were told at one of the community campground barbecues that if the rate would be increased it would only be a raise of about $30 per month.

It was also suggested to the mayor that there be a reduced rate to the people who spend four months or longer and pay their rent in advance.

Our question is "What ever happened to the idea?" The Mayor said it would be taken under advisement.

It is not a fair comparison to the other campgrounds in the area as the only thing that Pahokee has going for it is the lake.

The other campgrounds have heated swimming pools, golf courses, planned activities, recreation hall or club house, shuffleboard courts, once a week pot-luck dinners, planned day trips to local attractions, reduced rates if you spend over four months, etc.

The local merchants showed their appreciation of our being there and bringing in considerable increase in their finances by putting on barbecues for the campground residents. They also supplied taxi service to the shoppers who live in motor homes. Too bad the City Fathers don't feel that way!

We have been residents of the Pahokee Campground for the past four years and had looked forward to our fifth but with the increase in the rates, it looks doubtful. We have been in touch with other winter campers who have spent numerous winters here also and they feel the same as we do. The beauty of having "wheels under your home" is that you can always go someplace else.

Sincerely,

Donald H. Sommer

What happens when periodontal disease goes unchecked?

Editor's note: October 18-24 is Dental Health Week. We asked Dr. Ray Behm to address the issue of dental health.

Today the consumer is more aware about their health. If given a choice, most of us would rather prevent disease, than treat disease when one is in pain or discomfort.

What happens, then, when the disease goes undiagnosed? In the case of gum disease or periodontitis, the result may be losing one's teeth.

According to United States government statistics, periodontal disease affects 87% of our adult population. Periodontal disease can be controlled and needs preventive therapy.

Periodontal disease is often a slowly progressing, painless killer of teeth.

The consumer should be aware of periodontal disease symptoms. These include:

1. Red, swollen, or tender gums.
2. Gums that bleed when you brush your teeth.
3. Your gums have separated from your teeth.
4. Pus appears between your teeth and gums.

5. There's any change in the way your teeth fit together.

6. Your teeth are loose or shifting.

7. You notice bad breath or a bad taste in your mouth.

A visit to your local dentist and hygienist can often help the consumer pinpoint any periodontal problems before the damage leads to tooth loss.

Visit your local dentist and hygienist today and be more aware of your dental health.

Why not go during Dental Health Week?

University of Florida developing new research in the use of taxol

By Morgan Marshall
University of Florida

The University of Florida has launched an intensive program to produce more cancer-fighting taxol, while minimizing the threat to the Pacific yew trees which provide the only reliable source of the drug.

Dr. Kopaka Rao, a professor of medicinal chemistry at UF's College of Pharmacy, has discovered an isolation method that produces more taxol from yew bark, as well as related compounds that can be converted into taxol in the laboratory. The U.S. Patent & Trademark Office has just allowed Rao's patent on the synthesis of taxol from these related compounds.

"The isolation methods in use now produce taxol in a yield of about 0.01 percent from the yew bark," Rao says. "With our method, the yields of taxol ranged from 0.02 to 0.04 percent. Combining the taxol directly isolated in greater yields with the taxol we can create from these analogues can result in yields five to ten times greater than what is currently being reported."

Although these additional analogues were discovered in France several years ago, Rao is the first to successfully isolate these compounds from the bark of the Pacific yew and convert them into taxol in the laboratory. The analogues, known as the xylanoids of taxol and 10-deacetyl taxol, together account for 0.1 percent or more of the Pacific yew bark.

The University of Florida has launched the "Yew of Florida" project to promote Rao's development in a new taxol research laboratory in the UF Progress Center in Alachua, Florida.

The laboratory is equipped to process 10,000 pounds of yew bark, needles or wood at a rate of 200-600 pounds per week. Most of the taxol produced by the project is expected to be reprocessed and used to supply clinical trials and additional research.

Taxol has been a source of controversy since researchers discovered its effectiveness against cancer several years ago. Found in significant quantities only in the bark of the endangered Pacific yew, taxol has raised the ire of environmental groups who claim that the trees are being harvested at such a rate that they may disappear entirely within a few years.

As a result, researchers around the world have been looking for ways to secure the compound without destroying its natural source. At Florida State University, a chemist patented an alternative method for producing taxol from the analogue 10-deacetyl/baccatin found in the leaves of some yew species. The process could enable scientists to produce taxol without endangering the Pacific yew trees - assuming a reliable source of the necessary analogue could be found. In Mississippi, researchers began a project using ornamental yew bushes - a potential new source of taxol - which also could eliminate the need for harvesting the endangered Pacific yew.

"Both of these processes hold long-range potential," Rao says. "But, right now, the bark of the Pacific yew remains the primary source of taxol, and our isolation process will produce five to ten times more taxol from the same amount of bark."

According to Rao, Bristol-Myers Squibb, Inc., which has an exclusive agreement with the National Cancer Institute to supply taxol for medical research, currently has 1 million pounds of yew bark for processing. With the new isolation process and the utilization of the related analogues, Rao says, as much as five to ten times more taxol could be produced from the current supply of bark.

"To be certain we were not simply working with a particularly rich sample of bark, we have used pooled batches containing bark from hundreds of different trees," Rao says. "Using five of these pooled batches, three of which we obtained from the National Cancer Institute, our yields still ranged from 0.02 to 0.04 percent taxol from the yew bark."

"We also have verified the purity of our taxol," Rao says. "We have had our taxol analyzed through the National Cancer Institute by an independent agency, which awarded the sample an 'excellent' rating."

Before the university's Division of Sponsored Research became involved in the project, investing more than $500,000 in taxol research equipment for the laboratory in Alachua, Rao's experiments were conducted on a small scale in his College of Pharmacy laboratory.

"I was confident that our process could be repeated on a larger scale," Rao said. "The method was taken from a one-gram scale to a 200-gram scale with no significant difference in results."

"Now, with the larger equipment in the new laboratory, we are processing 10 times more extract and we continue to be successful. We are now convinced that our process can greatly increase the amount of taxol available from the yew bark."

JV, 9th Raiders results

The JV Riders lost to Imokalee, 8-14, last week, and the 9th grade team tied 6-6.

Coach Thomas Dawkins said "The kids never quit; we had a long bus ride and a rough place to play, but they never quit."

Dawkins said the JV drove the ball to within the Imokalee 20-yard line with 20 seconds left, but a face-mask penalty moved the offense back upfield.

"We tried a 'Hail Mary' pass, but it just didn't work out for us. We'll rebound this week and play a good game against South Fork," said Coach Dawkins.

Glades Central's Raiders trample Trojans

BY CHIP NEWTON
SUN STAFF

There were some exciting firsts in Glades Central Community High School's 38-0 win over Lake Worth's Trojans Friday night: Franchise Grand-Pierre kicked his first field goal, Michael Thornton carried the ball on offense for the first time, and he scored his first points, two touchdowns.

The Raiders were strong and solid throughout the game, though they eased up a bit in the fourth quarter. And why not? The team went into the last quarter ahead 38-0.

The first touchdown came early in the first quarter when Steve Smith fired a shot to Fred Taylor for 12 yards and six points. Fred Taylor ran for 36 yards and six more, and Thornton fought his way in for the two-point PAT.

In the second quarter, JaJuan Seider threw one to Nakia Jenkins for 14 yards and another six, followed by a good PAT kick by Grand-Pierre.

Franchise, who's been steady on PATs this season, finally got to a field goal as time ran out in the second quarter, making the score 24-0.

The third quarter saw two more TDs, the first by Cedric Evans, who took a pass from QB Smith for 12 yards and six points. Grand-Pierre's PAT was good.

The final score came on a 35-yard run by Fred Taylor, which hit the TD mark, and Grand-Pierre kicked his third PAT.

The red-hot Raiders picked off five Lake Worth passes and held the Trojans to just 72 yards total, 52 on the ground.

Glades Central had 253 yards on the ground and 79 more in the air.

On Raiders had 15 plays for 155 yards, compared to 3 for 20 yards for the Trojans.

GD wins in "aftertime"

By CHIP NEWTON
SUN Staff

Glades Day's Gators won in the classroom Friday night, when an official ruled King's Academy's final score had come after time expired.

The Gators had been ahead 13-7 with less than a minute remaining and ran out of downs on their own 35-yard line. The Gators let the clock run down to 15 seconds and drew a delay-of-game flag.

For a fourth-down play, the Gators faked a punt, and Tommy King ran with the ball to eat up the clock. The plan backfired on the Gators when King was brought down at the Gators' 12-yard line, a 26-yard loss, with four seconds remaining on the clock and the Lions took over.

The clock was stopped while the chains were moved, and the Lions' offense poured onto the field, but not quickly enough, said officials.

Lions quarterback David Hodges fired a TD pass to John Norton, but Glades Day Head Coach Mandy Perez protested that time had expired before the play started. Perez was proved right minutes later when the official timekeeper confirmed it. "But that game will be contested for a long time in their minds, in the minds of their fans," said Coach Perez.

"It was a cleanly played game, with a lot of sportsmanship on both sides," said Perez.

Our defense held them to 100 yards. Our defense pitched a shut-out.

"At least in regulation time," he added.

The Gators rushed 53 times for 260 yards, with Miles Griffin taking 28 times and picking up 197 yards.

Griffin's yardage for the evening pushes him over the 1000-yard mark for the season.

Graham Chancey was one-of-five for 20 yards and one interception. That interception was run back 66 yards for the Lion's only score, by Sean McMichael.

The Gators first scored on a 1-yard run by Griffin with 7:07 left in the first quarter, followed by a PAT kick by Patrick Whitehead.

Whitehead scored next on a 14-yard run with 8:34 left in the third quarter.

The Gators had over 300 yards rushing, but, according to coach Perez, "I gave back 26 yards (on the punt-fake)."

The win was the 13th consecutive defeat of the Lions by the Gators.

You'd smile too...If your name was Miles Griffin and you'd just rushed 28 times for 197 yards, and gone over 1000 for the season. Impressive! Griffin was the leading gainer Friday night as the Glades Day Gators defeated Kings Academy's Lions at Kings Academy.

Pahokee defeated

By CHIP NEWTON
SUN Staff

Two fumbles and a last-minute TD cost the Pahokee Blue Devils a win Friday night.

With one minute remaining, Suncoast Charger quarterback Michael Russell threw a pass to Cedric Saffold for nine yards and six points. Stephen Cain's PAT kick gave the Chargers an eight-point lead.

The game looked different early on: Pahokee got on the board first on a 6-yard pass from quarterback Terry Barber to Andre Johnson on the first play of the second quarter. The score was set up when Ulrich Williams intercepted one of Russell's passes.

After Barber fumbled the ball away on Pahokee's next possession, Charger halfback Andre Anderson scored on a two-yard run. Cain kicked another PAT and Suncoast went ahead 7-6.

But Pahokee came right back with an eight-play 67-yard drive that ended with Denorse Mosely scored on an 18-yard pass from Barber. The two-point PAT failed, and Pahokee went into the locker room leading 12-7.

Anderson scored on a 5-yard run late in the third quarter to put the Chargers ahead 13-12.

Barber was 16 of 26 for 110 yards, with two touchdowns and one interception. Andre Johnson was one-for-one passing, and caught five for 31 yards. Johnson also rushed five times for 20 yards.

Denorse Mosely caught nine for 94 yards. Harold Pringle caught one for four yards, and Marvin Coley made his first receptions, catching two for eleven yards.

Andre Taylor carried eight times for 20 yards, Craig Michens rushed once for two yards, and quarterback Barber carried four times for only one yard.

The Blue Devils had 140 yards in the air and 43 on the ground.

Head Coach Mark Kaczanowicz said "It was the best we've played all year, even though the score doesn't show it. The defense did very well, but our two fumbles resulted in touchdowns for them."

A brawl broke out on the field as the game ended, and had to be broken up by police.

Other fights occurred in the stadium parking lot and the streets surrounding the field.

Crusaders lose to Benjamin

By CHIP NEWTON
SUN Staff

The Christian Day Crusaders were ahead for a few short minutes in the first quarter Friday night, but Benjamin's Buccaneers promptly pirated the rest of the game away.

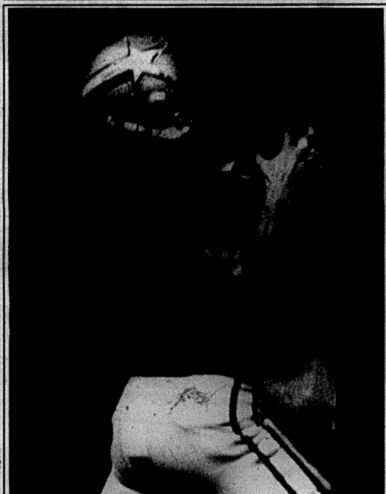

It really looked great while it lasted, but it didn't last very long.

The Bucs scored first on a four-yard pass from quarterback Ryan Smith to wide receiver Dan Sheehan, but the PAT kick failed to split the uprights.

Calvin Bowens promptly took a 60-yard pass from Chris Cunningham into the Buccaneers' end zone with such power it looked like the Bucs were resting, and Jose Betancourt went him one better with a perfect kick.

And that was it score-wise, for the Crusaders. Locked in an extremely tough battle for the next three quarters, the two teams surged up and down the field, but the Buccaneers scored four more times. The Crusaders did not.

In spite of some super plays -

I'll take that, thank you...Crusader quarterback Chris Cunningham, playing on defense, picks off a Ryan Smith pass Friday night at Pioneer Park as the Crusaders lost to the Benjamin Buccaneers.

SUNPHOTO BY CHIP NEWTON

Chris Cunningham, playing end zone. Christian Day had 179 yards offense, 82 on the ground in 32 carries, and 97 yards in the air. Benjamin had 266 total, with back 39 yards - the Crusaders 176 in the air and 90 on the just couldn't get the ball in the ground.

First quarter action...Christian Day fans hoot 'n holler in the first quarter as Calvin Bowens puts six points on the board. Sadly, those six and the PAT kick that followed it were the only score for the Crusaders Friday night. Benjamin's Buccaneers maced the Crusaders, 33 - 7.

Pahokee defeated

By CHIP NEWTON
SUN Staff

Two fumbles and a last-minute TD cost the Pahokee Blue Devils a win Friday night.

With a minute remaining, Suncoast Charger quarterback Michael Russell threw a pass to Cedric Saffold for nine yards and six points. Stephen Cain's PAT kick gave the Chargers an eight-point lead.

The game looked different early on: Pahokee got on the board first on a 6-yard pass from quarterback Terry Barber to Andre Johnson on the first play of the second quarter. The score was set up when Ulrich Williams intercepted one of Russell's passes.

After Barber fumbled the ball away on Pahokee's next possession, Charger halfback Andre Anderson scored on a two-yard run. Cain kicked another PAT and Suncoast went ahead 7-6.

But Pahokee came right back with an eight-play 67-yard drive that ended with Denorse Mosely scoring on an 18-yard pass from Barber. The two-point PAT failed, and Pahokee went into the locker room leading 12-7.

Anderson scored on a 5-yard run late in the third quarter to put the Chargers ahead 13-12.

Barber was 16 of 26 for 110 yards, with two touchdowns and one interception. Andre Johnson was one-for-one passing, and caught five for 31 yards. Johnson also rushed five times for 20 yards.

Denorse Mosely caught nine for 94 yards, Harold Pringle caught one for four yards, and Marvin Coley made his first receptions, catching two for eleven yards.

Andre Taylor carried eight times for 20 yards, Craig Mickens rushed once for two yards, and quarterback Barber carried four times for only one yard.

The Blue Devils had 140 yards in the air and 43 on the ground.

Head Coach Mark Kaczanowicz said "It was the best we've played all year, even though the score doesn't show it. The defense did very well, but our two fumbles resulted in touchdowns for them."

A brawl broke out on the field as the game ended, and had to be broken up by police.

Other fights occurred in the stadium parking lot and in the streets surrounding the field.

Crusaders lose to Benjamin

By CHIP NEWTON
SUN Staff

The Christian Day Crusaders were ahead for a few short minutes in the first quarter Friday night, but Benjamin's Buccaneers promptly pirated the rest of the game away.

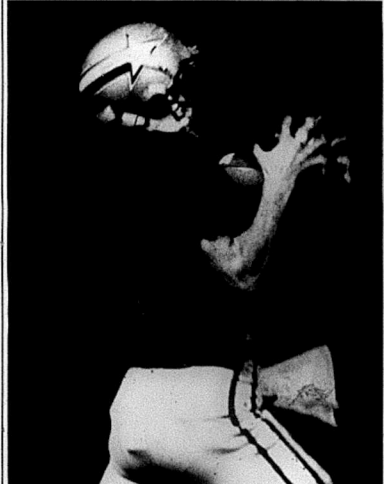

It really looked great while it lasted, but it didn't last very long.

The Bucs scored first on a four-yard pass from quarterback Ryan Smith to wide receiver Dan Sheehan, but the PAT kick failed to split the uprights.

Calvin Bowens promptly took a 60-yard pass from Chris Cunningham into the Buccaneers' end zone with such power it looked like the Bucs were resting, and Jose Betancourt went him one better with a perfect kick.

And that was it score-wise, for the Crusaders. Locked in an extremely tough battle for the next three quarters, the two teams surged up and down the field, but the Buccaneers scored four more times. The Crusaders did not.

In spite of some super plays,

I'll take that, thank you...Crusader quarterback Chris Cunningham, playing on defense, picks off a Ryan Smith pass Friday night at Pioneer Park as the Crusaders lost to the Benjamin Buccaneers.

SUNPHOTO by CHIP NEWTON

Chris Cunningham, playing defense, picked off a long first-quarter Buccaneer pass, probably saving a Buc TD. Bowens taking a kickoff return back 39 yards - the Crusaders just couldn't get the ball in the end zone.

Christian Day had 179 yards offense, 82 on the ground in 32 carries, and 97 yards in the air. Benjamin had 266 total, with 176 in the air and 90 on the ground.

First quarter action...Christian Day fans hoot 'n holler in the first quarter as Calvin Bowens puts six points on the board. Sadly, those six and the PAT kick that followed it were the only scores for the Crusaders Friday night. Benjamin's Buccaneers maced the Crusaders, 33 - 7.

God is doing wonderful things at Christian Day School. We are holding our Fifth Annual Fun Fair today, Thursday, October 22.

The theme for this year's fair is "A Country Fair"; and the festivities will begin at 5:30 p.m. with a costume parade in the street adjacent to First Baptist Church of Belle Glade.

Chicken & Dumping dinners are available for eat-in or take-out at $5 each.

Activities will include: arts and crafts display, dunking booth, dart and basketball throw, goldfish game, and much, much more.

The fair is open to the public, so come out and join in the food, fun, and fellowship!

Top Priority

Top Priority, a 65-member community service organization made up of students in grades eight through twelve, is already in full swing under the able leadership of senior president Michelle Williams.

Projects are already being planned for the year. At last week's meeting, Anne Hopkins, director of the local Red Cross chapter, explained various ways the club can help meet specific needs in our community.

One project the students want to participate in is "The Holiday Store", a Christmas project. This project will be held December 8 - 10 for the needy in our community.

Mrs. Hopkins commended our Top Priority vice-president, Nicole Bennett, for having given 136 service-hours to the Red Cross during the Hurricane Andrew disaster. We are all very proud of Nicole! She has been an inspiration for other students to be involved with the Red Cross. We appreciate Mrs. Hopkins and the wonderful work of the Red Cross.

A special time for the Crusaders is each Wednesday morning at 9 a.m. - our chapel time. We have a lot of music, special prayer time, and guest speakers from our area.

This week we welcomed back a special friend, Jean Ingram, who blessed us once again with her challenging message.

The Crusaders invite anyone who is interested to continue on next page...

to participate with us during these special chapel times! Did you see a lot of bicycle riders around town Saturday morning? If so, they were probably Crusader Choir members heading for Tabl Road for their annual Crusader Choir Bike-a-thon. Congratulations to Mickey Lieva who clocked in with an impressive 42 miles.

Thanks to everyone in the community for your continuing support for the choir. You can hear the entire choir in concert at First Baptist Church December 6 at 7 p.m. Mark your calendars.

Varsity football trip
The varsity football team traveled to the Orange Bowl in Miami to see the Miami Hurricanes defeat the Texas Christian Horn Frogs this weekend.

Marcel Bowens, a wide receiver for the Crusaders, said, "It was an awesome experience to see the Canes run out of the tunnel, through the smoke, and into a stadium full of screaming fans."

"I got to see (Miami quarterback) Gino Toretta up close, and I even got to speak one-on-one with (Miami receiver) Lamar Thomas."

Asked what he would remember most about the day, Bowens said with a smile, "The cheerleaders..."

Jonathan Shane McNeill has been selected for membership in the Golden Key National Honor Society at Florida A&M University in Tallahassee.

An induction service will be held in the grand ballroom on November 2.

McNeill's major is pharmacy. He formerly attended Glades Day School and Chipola Junior College in Marianna, Florida.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James (Bubba) McNeill of Chipley and Belle Glade.

Gator Tales

Glades Day School's campus looked a little "haunted" this weekend as the Gators celebrated Halloween with their annual fall fund-raising Carnival Saturday, October 17.

The elementary costume parade kicked off the activities with youngsters dressed as everything from pumpkins to pirates and from clowns and birthday cakes, all marching around the football field.

Overall winners were BEST HALLOWEEN - Aliana Payret as a pumpkin; MOST ORIGINAL - Ashley Hooker as an Oreo Cookie; MOST AUTHENTIC - Bradley Schlechter as Col. Sanders (with a bucket of "live" chicken); VISITORS - Bo Schlechter as a pumpkin; BEST

GROUP THEME

"Christopher Columbus Discovers the New World" with Kelly Alvarez, Natalie Alvarez, Jeffrey Rey, and Jorge Mateu as Columbus and friends, complete with all three ships, the Nina, the Pinta, and the Santa Maria.

Ticket sales were brisk through much of the afternoon as visitors took advantage of the many game booths including the dunk tank, pie-in-your-face, basketball shoot, and goldfish throw (no, the goldfish weren't thrown).

Several popular attractions were the return of the Spook House, sponsored by the sixth grade, and the Student Council's "car crash" and Karaoke, where participants sang their favorite songs to background music.

A Gator charm bracelet and the football from the Glades Day/Christian Day game (signed by varsity players and coaches) were two of the favorite items going to high bidders in the auction.

Suspense mounted as time out was taken to pull numbers for the Booster Club's car drawing. A mixture of groans and squeals greeted each number drawn until the final one was left - #357 - owned by Ashton and Amanda Reynolds.

CONGRATULATIONS!

Teachers are able to see how American education has developed over time and the realities currently confronting educators.

Students enrolled are: Kimberly Adams, Beth Buchanan, Stacey-Ann Hannigan, Sophia Infil, Gloria Martin, Patricia McCray, Patricia Morrison, Tanya Patterson, Aron Posada, Sharon Ricketts, Zulma Rodriguez, Shomari Sanford, Charles Smith, and Vicki Wyoff.

Coached by Ms. Anne Haskell, team members include Sharika Brown, Roger Williams, Dahlia Forde, Wismick St. Jean, Stacey Hutchinson, Sherbet Samuels, and Patricia Morrison.

The team is following a great tradition of regional and state championships. GCCHS hopes this new and building team can add some awards in its own right.

Health Career Day

On October 16, fifty juniors supervised by Career Occupational Specialist Ms. Alma Henry attended the fourth annual Health Career Day at the Glades Campus of Palm Beach Community College.

Health Career Day is sponsored by the Palm Beach County Health Care District and PATCH (Planned Approach to Community Health). Mrs. Sandra Chamblee heads this effort to inform students of the rewards and possibilities in the health care field.

Winners in other ticket drawings were Heath Norman, Winchester Rifle; Rilean Hooker, quilt; Barbie Buchanan and Brenda Puig, Dooney & Burke purses.

GD5 would like to thank all the faculty, parents, and students for making this year's Carnival bigger and better than ever.

Never ones to relax for long, the Gators are now looking forward to Homecoming next week. With the theme centering on "Haunted Homecoming II: The Sequel," students should have no problem finding ideas for their float entries.

Good news - the Gator Growl is back! Sponsored by the Student Council, the popular night-time pep rally will be held next Thursday evening, October 29, after the JV football game against Benjamin.

The Gators will parade down Main Street beginning at 1 p.m. Friday, October 30, and activities will conclude that evening with the game against Ft. Lauderdale Westminster Academy. The homecoming queen will be crowned during halftime ceremonies of the game.

This year's editor is Maria Renteria; co-editor is Patricia Morrison; photographer is Ramon Pagan; advertising manager is Alma Marquez; Mrs. Cheryl Lawton-Smith is advisor.

Ad prices range from $5 for a patron ad to $150 for a full page.

Cherish these current memories and reserve a 1993 Shield.

For the Shield, seniors voted in homeroom for their superlative selections. A list of the "winners" - for example, Mr. Luncheon - will be given soon the Raider Log.

Is this the latest in furniture at Royals?...No, it's Royals Furniture's contribution to the Grassy Waters Bed Race. Manager Larry Parrish (shown above) says this bed, made especially for the November 7 Grassy Waters Bed Race, will be very fast. He challenges other merchants to enter the race and try to beat his team. Shown on the bed is Royals employee Beverly Vann, who will steer the bed, and Cathy Mohney, Chairman of the Grassy Waters Bed Race.
